

DebConf15 in Germany

Want to help and/or sponsor?

Richard Hartmann,
richih@debian.org,
#debconf-team @ irc.oftc.net

2014-11-20

Outline

- 1 Intro
- 2 Opportunities to help
- 3 Outro

Outline

- 1 Intro
- 2 Opportunities to help
- 3 Outro

What's Debian?

- Founded in 1993
- Second-oldest active GNU/Linux distribution
- More than 1000 Debian Developers
- About 2000 contributors
- Approximately 26,481 man years of effort
- Arguably the most important and influential distribution
- 55.7% of all websites world-wide are powered by Debian
 - 32.1% run on Debian proper
 - 23.6% run on its derivatives

What's DebConf?

- Debian's yearly developer conference
- Shapes the future of Debian
- We expect about 350-450 of core people
- First time in Germany
- Total time of two weeks
- Includes an Open Weekend which invites the general public

Outline

- 1 Intro
- 2 Opportunities to help
- 3 Outro

Gift us your time

- We always need more people
- It's a lot of fun and the work is rewarding
- You get a t-shirt in a different colour

Get your company to sponsor us

- Direct exposure to a group of highly skilled and influential people
- Sponsors may take part in our job fair
- If you're using Debian, Ubuntu, Mint, etc this is a way to give back to the community
- There's a shiny brochure to convince marketing, managers, and other non-technical people

Outline

- 1 Intro
- 2 Opportunities to help
- 3 Outro

Resources

- Website: <http://debconf15.debconf.org>
- Brochure en_US: <http://bit.ly/1F6zzw7>
- Brochure de_DE: <http://bit.ly/1vs3ehN>
- Mailing list: <http://bit.ly/1ysx9nJ>
- IRC: `#debconf-team@irc.oftc.net`

Thanks!

Thank you for listening!

Questions? Ask now or catch me after this talk, both is fine.

See slide footer for further contact information.

`http://richardhartmann.de/talks/`